Shani Christenson is a professional cake artist living in Mendocino California.. Her cake adventures began with her love for baking special treats for her family combined with her obsessive need to be creative and make beautiful things. Shani has been creating artisan cakes for 5 years now and has turned her passion into a thriving cake business. Along with having many of her creations published in magazines, Shani had the honor of placing first in the Advanced Wedding Cake category at That Takes the Cake Sugar Art Show and Competition in 2016 and also took best in division. One of her all-time favorite cakes placed in the top 5 of the 2015 “ThreadCakes” contest. The next step in her cake adventure is teaching, she is now creating online tutorials for her cake decorating blog Shani’s Sweet Art, teaching at cake shows across the US and hopes to offer international classes someday.
